Natteri is a village in Tiruvannamalai district close to Kanchipuram Divya Desam and near Brahmadesam. The temple is over 1000 years old and dates back to the Chola period and Shrimad Ramanujar has visited the temple. His Holiness the 43rd, 44th and 46th Pontiffs of Sri Ahobila Mutt have also visited the temple. Several Vedic scholars hail from the village. The temple had been in a very dilapidated condition for several years due to which the beautiful murthis of Sri Lakshmi Varahar Perumal, Komalavalli Thāyār, Vishvakṣenar had been placed at the Anjaneyar (Hanuman) sannidhi, where the unique Anjaneyar idol had been installed by His Holiness Sri Vādiraja Swami 750 years ago.

Under the auspices of the present Pontiff of Sri Ahobila Mutt, His Holiness the 46th Jeer, the villagers, people with roots in Natteri and devotees from all over the world have been coming together since 2020 to renovate the temple and rebuild it in heavy stone to ensure that the temple stands the test of time.

In a significant chapter of Natteri's history, the construction of the Garba Grahm of Sri Lakshmi Varahar Perumal, Komalavalli Thaayar and Andāl and Garuda have been completed, built entirely of stone, along with Madapalli (temple kitchen) and Wells.
